

The word AKASHA originates in the ancient language Sanskrit. In various belief systems, AKASHA is identified as aether; the space between elements. Considered the “fifth element”, AKASHA is described as being the everpresent bonding agent; allowing for the other elements to function and achieve success.

Pillars of the collective:

- Art and Creativity- firm believers in the transformative power of artistic expression and witness
- Community- An active support system for any goal and intention is key to all success
- Growth- without change there can be no growth. The environment must foster change to see the growth

The PiECES Gallery and Events by AKASHA will be an environment that fosters genuine connection and energy. Providing a place of inspiration, enrichment, empowerment and growth for the art community and its supporters. Promoting and providing the necessary tools and learning engagements to achieve creative, mental, and financial success.

Creative Concepts and Resources

The word AKASHA originates in the ancient language Sanskrit. In various belief systems, AKASHA is identified as aether; the space between elements. Considered the “fifth element”, AKASHA is described as being the everpresent bonding agent; allowing for the other elements to achieve success.

The AKASHA Collective will be the aether of the creative arts for black and brown communities. Our purpose and intention is to act as a beacon for black and brown artists and creatives of all mediums in the Yonkers, Westchester County, and Lower Hudson region; and to provide the tools, inspiration, experiences and knowledge to grow and thrive confidently in any community.
